KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Nigel Collin

Conference MC & Game of Inches.

Nigel's message is that business is a 'Game of Inches' and not a one off event. 99% of successes come from many small, practical steps rather than the single 'Eureka' idea. The big idea makes a good story in a speech, but it's hard for delegates to incorporate into their everyday working lives.

Anni Macbeth aka Annimac

International futurist and trend forecaster.

Our Future: Frightening & Fantastic.

We are experiencing unprecedented change across all aspects of our lives, personal & professional. We increasingly feel leaderless & directionless, lost in a vortex of change. Fearfulness is at an all-time high. Professionally, we are forced to question all normal assumptions about our clients & associates – what they want, what they need, how they need it, how do we know, how do we communicate with them, how do we get their support.

Peter Boyce OAM

Lawyer and Committee member of The Daniel Morcombe Foundation Inc.

The search for the truth and the Daniel Morcombe Foundation.

Peter worked tirelessly with the Morcombe family to uncover the truth of missing Daniel and the subsequent inquest and the ultimately the murder case that brought Daniels killer to justice. His unwavering support in the legal work and the assistance in the setup of the Daniel Morecombe Foundation is one of the reasons for its success

Susan Alberti AO

Chairman – Susan Alberti Medical Research Foundation and Vice President Western Bulldogs.

Can philanthropy for medical research and AFL work together?

Susan Alberti is a philanthropist and businesswoman who has dedicated her life to helping raise money for medical research, supporting healthy, active lifestyles, through her work at the Western Bulldogs and developing better infrastructure for Melbourne's west.
