Sheep genetics professional development day

The Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development (DPIRD) and Sheep Genetics invite stock agents, consultants, agribusiness and education staff to a Sheep Genetics professional development training day. This free event will provide the latest information on Australian Sheep Breeding Values (ASBVs), selection indexes, sheep genetics, data quality, reproduction and correct management practices.

Thursday 12 October 2017

9.00am–4.00pm

Katanning Research Facility, DPIRD Katanning

As a stock agent or consultant, you have a direct link with the farmer and this is a great opportunity to share knowledge across the industry along with helping improve sheep profitability.

RSVP essential to Melanie Dowling
